North Dakota Environmental Conference Scheduled for Oct. 7

BISMARCK, N.D. – The Upper Midwest Section of the Air & Waste Management Association will host the first annual North Dakota Environmental Conference on Thursday, Oct. 7, 2021, at the National Energy Center of Excellence at Bismarck State College. The all-day conference invites environmental professionals representing industry, consultants, government, and academia, serving in the areas of air quality, stormwater, water quality/wastewater treatment, waste management and more. Through keynote presentations and technical sessions, attendees will learn about new, relevant environmental issues.

The keynote speakers are North Dakota Department of Environmental Quality division directors Jim Semerad and Karl Rockeman.

Coffee and snack breaks will provide an opportunity to network with other environmental professionals. Lunch is provided.

View the full conference agenda and register online at <https://www.awma-ums.org/calendar/inaugural-north-dakota-regional-environmental-conference>. The participation cost is $50 per for non-AWMA members and $35 for members.
